

VOCABULARY EXTRAVAGANZA

Become the Alpha Vocabulary Red Wolf!

All “wolf words” in “Far Traveler” have been underlined. How many of the words do you know? It will all depend on whether you are a “Pup” or an Old Alpha Wolf with lots of expertise about wolves, wilderness, and wildlife! If you and your classmates have learned the meanings of a lot of the words, you can have a WORD -O game. This is fun, and it’s a great way to review for any vocabulary test in any subject.

DIRECTIONS

Do you know how to play BINGO? Then you can play WORD - O! Fill in 25 vocabulary words in the squares, one per square, that is! The teacher (or the winner of each “round” if you want some variety) will call out the definitions. As each definition is called, locate the word on your grid and place a piece of colored paper (or an M&M if you can find a source - and if you can resist eating them before the game is over!) on the square. Five in a row, horizontally, vertically, or diagonally is WORD - O! The center square, by the way, gets filled in!

This is a great game for rainy Friday afternoons, for jump starts on Monday mornings, for any old time the teacher will say, “Well, all right, just for a little while!” when someone asks, “May we play WORD - O?”
